Dear Progress Seminar Attendees,

As we convene this weekend to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the Progress Seminar, it is important to reflect upon what makes this event even happen every year. We believe it can be summed up in a few short words – “We Are One San Mateo County.”

There is something undeniably special about San Mateo County. Maybe it’s because we don’t have one big city to dominate the discussion and bully the political landscape, or maybe it’s because we have to fight together in order to get our fair share against the counties with big cities.

Whatever the reason, we get things done through great collaboration. We don’t hold grudges when we disagree, we take care of our own when the going gets tough, and we never give up looking for ways to solve a problem.

In late February, we in San Mateo County were notified that the hotel we sit in today was on a boycott list and authorized for a picket line due to a short-sighted decision to use non-union labor on a major HVAC project at the hotel. Since that day our three organizations have been in overdrive and worked daily to get the right people talking, to influence the hotel ownership group into collaboration with the Monterey/San Cruz Building Trades Council, and to finally bring about the temporary lifting of the boycott which allowed many of us to be in Monterey this weekend.

It’s an example of how when business and labor work together on the issues that impact our members collectively, we bring about the best possible public policy solutions to challenges facing everyone from CEOs to our elected officials, from our community organizations to the working men and women of our unions who teach our children, fix our roads, drive our busses, answer our 911 calls, service our hotel rooms, fly our planes, construct our buildings, protect our communities, care for our elderly, and myriad other jobs that contribute to making San Mateo County a great place to live, work and raise a family.

The Chamber is proud to count among its longtime members many labor council affiliates and the Labor Council and Building Trades Council are proud to be a sponsor of this year’s Progress Seminar. We are thankful to everyone who supported our efforts to find a path forward to participating in the 50th Anniversary Progress Seminar together as “One San Mateo County”, and we look forward to all we are able to accomplish together in light of this renewed and reinvigorated partnership.

Sincerely,

Amy Buckmaster

2019 PROGRESS SEMINAR Co-Chairs

State Assemblymember and Speaker pro Tem Kevin Mullin California State Assembly, District 22

Kevin Mullin was first elected in 2012 and re-elected in 2014, 2016 and 2018 to the California State Assembly representing the 22nd District in San Mateo County. On December 3, 2018 he was sworn in as Assembly Speaker pro Tem for the 2016-17 legislative session. As the #2 officer in the Assembly, he continues his role as part of Speaker Anthony Rendon's leadership team and presides regularly over Assembly floor sessions. In this role, Kevin makes rulings on parliamentary inquiries and helps ensure bi-partisan cooperation and civility during Assembly business.

Elections reform and strengthening our democracy is Kevin's top legislative priority. Through 2018, there have been 52 Mullin authored bills signed into law. Kevin has authored laws reforming the recount process for statewide elections, ensuring legitimate votes are counted by enhancing vote-by-mail ballot signature verification, and enabling San Mateo County to be the first county in the San Francisco Bay Area to conduct a regularly scheduled off-year election entirely by mail. He was also a co-author of the landmark law automatically registering Californians to vote.

Another landmark elections bill Kevin authored, AB 249 (The CA DISCLOSE Act), was signed into law by Governor Brown in 2017, giving California the strongest campaign disclosure law in the nation.

California voters will now be able to make informed decisions based on honest information about who the true funders are of campaign ads.

Kevin also authored AB 516, which will modernize California's system of getting license plates on vehicles at the point of sale. This bill will increase public safety and eliminate toll evasion which has denied local toll agencies millions of dollars in revenue. AB 516 will go into effect in January 2019.

His other legislative priorities focus on transportation infrastructure and congestion relief, affordable housing, economic opportunity for all, maintaining a balanced budget with a healthy rainy day fund, clean tech and nurturing our innovation economy as Chair of the Select Committee on Biotechnology and as a member of the Tech Caucus.

A 4th generation Californian and San Mateo County native, Kevin graduated from Junipero Serra High School, received a B.A. in Communications from the University of San Francisco, and a Master's degree in Public Administration (M.P.A.) from San Francisco State University. Kevin also completed the Harvard University, Kennedy School of Government's Leadership for the 21st Century Program.

Kevin served on the South San Francisco City Council from 2007 - 2012, serving as Mayor in 2011. His background also includes serving as district director for then-State Senator Jackie Speier (now Congresswoman) and as political director for his father, former State Assemblymember Gene Mullin.

As an entrepreneur, Kevin created KM2 Communications—a multimedia production business in South San Francisco. He has produced numerous documentaries and public affairs programming seen on local television, and has hosted various programs on Peninsula-TV Channel 26.

In 2016 Kevin received the John F. Foran Legislator of the Year Award from the Metropolitan Transportation Commission for leadership in transportation policy.

He lives in South San Francisco with his wife, Jessica Stanfill Mullin, their twin sons Liam and Landon and their rescue beagle, Sunshine.

Supervisor Carole Groom

San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, President of the Board, District 2 Supervisor

Carole Groom was elected to the Board of Supervisors in June 2010, served as President of the Board in 2011 and 2015. Prior to Supervisor Groom's appointment in 2009, she served nine years on the San Mateo City Council, including two terms as Mayor, and on the San Mateo Planning and Public Works Commissions.

Supervisor Groom's legislative priorities include expanded access to quality preschool and literacy, improved access to healthcare for all, environmental protection, preservation of County's parks, and growing the local economy. In December 2012, she was appointed to the California Coastal Commission by then California State Assembly Speaker, John Perez.

2019 PROGRESS SEMINAR Co-Chairs

In 2009 she launched "Active San Mateo County," which convenes an annual Fall conference that explores the health and wellbeing of residents through planning, recreation, and policy, as well as the annual countywide event, "Streets Alive! Parks Alive!" In 2012, the San Mateo County Parks & Recreation Directors Association honored her for her efforts with their "Champion of the Community" award.

Since 2011, she has worked with the San Mateo County Office of Education and Silicon Valley Community Foundation to increase the reading proficiency of third graders countywide. This initiative, called The Big Lift, was formally launched in 2013 and seeks to raise the reading proficiency of third grade students in San Mateo County from 58% to 80% by 2020 through key interventions including access to preschool, inspiring summer experiences, reducing chronic absenteeism and increasing family engagement from preschool to third grade.

In 2014, Supervisor Groom and Supervisor Dave Pine began the process of establishing Peninsula Clean Energy (PCE), a community choice energy program to provide consumers with an option for more renewable energy sources. With the support of the Board of Supervisors and participation of all 20 San Mateo County cities, a feasibility study was completed in 2015 and, in 2016, the Joint Powers Authority was formally created to launch Peninsula Clean Energy. In 2017, PCE served over 288,000 residential and business accounts across San Mateo County.

Her professional experience includes 18 years as a Vice President of Mills-Peninsula Health Services. She also serves on the Boards of Directors of the San Mateo Police Activities League and Leadership San Mateo/Foster City/Burlingame/Hillsborough. Supervisor Groom resides in the city of San Mateo

Colonel (retired) Dean L. Winslow, M.D.

Professor of Medicine, Stanford University

Dean Winslow, MD is Professor of Medicine with appointments in both the Division of Hospital Medicine and the Division of Infectious Diseases and Geographic Medicine at Stanford University. He has been a member of the Stanford faculty since 1998 and served from 2003-2008 as Co-Director of Stanford University's Infectious Diseases Fellowship Training Program. He grew up in Dover, Delaware, attended Penn State as an undergraduate (where he ran varsity track and cross-country under legendary coach Harry Groves) and Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia. He completed his internal medicine training at Medical Center of Delaware and infectious disease fellowship training at Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. He was in private practice in Wilmington, Delaware where he started the state's first multidisciplinary clinic for HIV patients in 1985. In 1988 he joined the DuPont Pharmaceutical Company where he worked both as a bench scientist on HIV drug resistance then later designed the clinical trials eventually leading to the FDA approval of Sustiva (efavirenz).

In 1996 he joined Agouron Pharmaceuticals where he helped direct clinical trials of Viracept (nelfinavir) and formed the Medical Affairs group responsible for post-marketing studies, medical information, and drug safety.

In 1999 he became Vice President of Regulatory Affairs and Clinical Research at Visible Genetics Inc. His group was responsible for the FDA clearance of the first pharmacogenomics diagnostic device, the TRUGENE HIV-1 drug resistance test in 2001. Dr. Winslow joined the staff at Santa Clara Valley Medical Center in 2003, where he served as Chief of the Division of AIDS Medicine from 2003-2012 and finally as Chair of the Department of Medicine from 2011-2013, the largest academic and clinical department at VMC with 200 faculty members and 76 interns and residents. Dr. Winslow returned to Stanford University fulltime in 2013, and currently is an attending on the inpatient University Medicine and Infectious Disease consult services and does bedside and didactic teaching at Stanford Hospital and Palo Alto VA. In 2015 he was appointed Academic Physician-In-Chief at Stanford/ValleyCare and Vice Chair of the Department of Medicine and he served in these roles through 2017. He served as a Resident Fellow in Robinson House 2013-2017 and was visiting faculty at Oxford University through Stanford's Bing Overseas Study Program in 2017.

Dr. Winslow's professional interests are focused on patient care and clinical teaching and serving as a mentor for residents and infectious disease fellows who are interested in pursuing careers as academic clinician/educators. Dr. Winslow is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and a Fellow of the Infectious Diseases Society of America. He is the author of 71 papers published in peer-reviewed journals and 92 presentations at national and international meetings. He is Chair of the Conflict of Interest and Ethics Committee, is a member of the IDSA Sepsis Task Force, and he previously served as Chair of the Standards and Practice Guidelines Committee of the IDSA. He served on the editorial board of the journal AIDS, and he is associate editor of Infectious Disease Alert. In both 2014 and 2015 he received Stanford University's David A. Rytand award for excellence in clinical teaching. In 2017 he was the recipient of the Society Citation award of the IDSA.

Colonel Winslow entered the Louisiana Air National Guard in 1980 as a general medical officer. He became a flight surgeon in 1983 and he was a Distinguished Graduate of the School of Aerospace Medicine. He served as Commander of the 159th Medical Group 1992-1995 and was State Air Surgeon, Delaware Air National Guard 1995-2011.

In addition to overseeing all community impact efforts, Gordon helped form the legal structure for The Golden Heart Fund, an independent non-profit established by 49ers alumni Ronnie Lott, Ron Ferrari, Harris Barton, and Brent Jones that aides alumni in need. Gordon is active in league-wide matters and hears appeals as a member of the panel that administers the NFL Player Tuition Assistance Plan and the NFL Severance Pay Plan.

Gordon joined the 49ers in 2011 as director of legal affairs, a role she held for four seasons, before becoming the vice president of legal and government affairs in 2015, then general counsel from 2016-17. Gordon came to the 49ers from the NFL Management Council where she worked on NFL player contracts, salary cap compliance, the 2011 NFL collective bargaining agreement, and labor issues, including the 2011 lockout. Prior to the NFL, Gordon practiced at Latham & Watkins LLP.

In 2015, Gordon was named to the Legal 500's GC Powerlist – U.S. Rising Stars, and in 2017 received the Silicon Valley Business Journal and San Francisco Business Times' Corporate Counsel Diversity Champion of the Year award for the work she did along with 49ers ownership on restructuring the 49ers Denise DeBartolo York Fellowship and implementing a diverse-slate interviewing policy, making the 49ers the first team in the NFL to commit to interviewing at least one woman and at least one person of color for every business opening. Gordon also serves on the Advisory Board of San Jose State's Institute for the Study of Sport, Society, and Social Change and the Silicon Valley Leadership Group Foundation Board.

Gordon holds a B.A. from UCLA and a J.D. from Stanford, where she has served as a Lecturer In Law.

Closing General Session Keynote

Honorable Jackie Speier, United States House of Representatives, 14th Congressional District

Jackie Speier is a fearless fighter for women's equality, LGBTQ rights and the disenfranchised who has dedicated her life to eliminating government corruption while working to strengthen America's national and economic security. She was named to Newsweek's list of 150 "Fearless Women" in the world and one of "Politico's 50" most influential people in American politics for bringing the Me Too reckoning to Congress.

She proudly represents California's 14th Congressional District, stretching from the southern portion of San Francisco through San Mateo County to East Palo Alto, and serves on the House Armed Services Committee (HASC) and as the Chairwoman of the Military Personnel Subcommittee, on the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence and on the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform. Speier is also Co-Chair of the Congressional Armenian Caucus, Co-Chair on the Bipartisan Task Force To End Sexual Violence, and the Communications and Policy Chair for the Democratic Women's Working Group (DWWG).

Fighting for Women's Rights

Speier brought the Me Too movement to Congress in the fall of 2017, with the introduction of her ME TOO Congress Act. It became the basis for the bipartisan Congressional Accountability Act of 1995 Reform Act (CAA Reform Act), which passed the House unanimously in February of 2018. If passed by the Senate, the bill would hold Members of Congress financially responsible if they cut a settlement for sexual harassment or discrimination or if they are found to have committed such acts through congressional oversight and investigation.

2019 PROGRESS SEMINAR Keynote Biographies

She continues to advocate for fundamental reforms to end the epidemic of sexual assault in the military and on college campuses, and she is leading the fight against sexism in the fields of science and technology and academia overall. And she is at the forefront of efforts to increase constitutional protections against sex discrimination through ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment and to end gender-based discrimination in the pricing of goods and services through the passage of the Pink Tax Repeal Act.

During her 18 years in both chambers of the California Legislature, she had more than 300 bills signed into law by both Republican and Democratic governors. Speier secured justice for women and children with a series of bills that led to the collection of more than $2 billion in delinquent court-ordered child support payments. She authored a measure that gave the state the nation's strongest financial privacy law and was integral to the passage of California's Gender Tax Repeal Act in 1996.

Eliminating Government Waste, Fraud, Abuse, and Corruption

Crusading for the safety, health, and rights of all Americans is one of Speier's driving core principles; from getting tough on big banks to ending taxpayer bailouts, and from eliminating wasteful and fraudulent government spending at all levels to serving as a check on the federal government in the fight against corruption. She is equally dedicated to keeping housing and student loans affordable; protecting private information from cyberwarfare and cyberespionage as well as the dissemination of nonconsensual pornography, or so-called "revenge porn"; and stopping abusive practices like so-called "gay conversion therapy" and discrimination against our transgender military servicemembers. She is also a champion for funding and research for traumatic brain injury, Alzheimer's, breast cancer, and gun violence prevention. That includes her dedication to preventing children's deaths caused by unsafe products and preventable tragedies like the 2010 San Bruno explosion that took the lives of eight people in her District.

Strong on National Defense

As ranking member of the HASC Subcommittee on Military Personnel and a member of the House Intelligence Committee, Speier is committed to keeping the United States secure from terrorists and hostile nations and honoring and supporting our veterans, military servicemembers, and their families. That means ensuring that American troops have the right equipment to do their jobs and save taxpayers' money by fighting for improved cyberdefenses and sound management practices at the Pentagon.

On these committees, and in her previous assignments, she has led numerous congressional investigations and hearings to protect the public by exposing a lack of oversight and enforcement of our laws and the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). That includes violations of UCMJ's codes of conduct for the use of nonconsensual pornography against servicemembers and wasting billions of taxpayers' dollars on disastrous programs like the F-35 and LCS. She has passed numerous amendments through the National Defense Authorization process to reduce sexual violence within our military and aid survivors, address misconduct by senior officers, and increase transparency about how our wars are funded and fought.

Prior to Congress

Speier first ran for Congress in 1979, facing a crowded field in a special election for a seat formerly held by Congressman Leo J. Ryan, for whom Speier had served as a legislative aide.

The special election was called after Ryan was shot to death in Jonestown, at the compound of the People's Temple, a cult in Guyana that had previously been based in Ryan's District. Speier traveled with Ryan on that trip in 1978 in an attempt to rescue some of the cult's 900 members. She was left nearly lifeless on the airport tarmac after being shot five times at point blank range with an assault rifle.

Speier underwent multiple surgeries after the tragedy and while recovering she realized she had a choice to make: Did she want to be a victim or did she want to be a survivor?

Speier chose to be a survivor, noting that "looking death in the face can make fearless."

Speier received her B.A. in Political Science from the University of California at Davis and her J.D. from UC Hastings College of the Law. Along with her husband, Barry Dennis, and her children, Jackson and Stephanie, she is a proud fan of the San Francisco Giants, the Golden State Warriors, and a lover of all things California. She enjoys any activity that allows her to spend time with her family, including their much-loved Labrador Retriever Buddy.

SEAMUS MURPHY, Chief Communications Officer, San Mateo County Transit District

Seamus Murphy is the Chief Communications Officer for SamTrans, Caltrain and the San Mateo County Transportation Authority.

Murphy oversees internal and external communications to all relevant audiences including agency employees; customers; the media; local communities and public officials at the local, state and federal levels.

Murphy has become a key player on the California Transit Association Executive and Legislative Committees and a crucial strategist in the efforts of the San Francisco region and the state to go forward with plans to accommodate statewide high-speed rail service on the Caltrain right-of-way. In 2009, Murphy was named one of the industry's "Top 40 Under 40" by Mass Transit Magazine.

Recognized widely for his passionate advocacy on behalf of an industry that has been the victim of constant struggles for adequate funding, Murphy shows a savvy ability to weave through the legislative thicket of state and federal governments and to convert elected officials and the public into transit advocates.

At a time when public support for transit is more critical than ever and when the issues of land use and transit funding and public perception of the industry are inextricably interwoven, Murphy brings a broad range of political and policy-related experience that is ideal for the circumstances the industry faces.

Murphy serves on the Board of Directors for several local non-profit organizations including the Service League of San Mateo County, the San Mateo County Union Community Alliance and Sustainable San Mateo County.

Flood & Sea Level Rise Resilience Agency - A Unified Voice for a Resilient San Mateo County Shoreline by 2100

PANELISTS

Len Materman, Executive Director, San Francisquito Creek Joint Powers Authority

Len Materman is the Executive Director of the San Francisquito Creek Joint Powers Authority, an independent government agency named after the physical feature that divides and unites cities and counties in the heart of Silicon Valley. Serving a Board of elected officials from five jurisdictions, Len leads the agency's strategic planning, projects, operations, partnerships, communications, and finances. With its staff of four, and the support of colleagues at its founding agencies and consultants, the Authority plans, designs, and implements a regional vision of connected major capital projects that reduce a proven flood threat, enhance ecosystems and recreational opportunities, and improve disaster response.

Since Len joined the SFCJPA in 2008, funding for projects that achieve agency objectives has grown from zero to $106 million from local, state, federal and private sources.

Recently completed is the $77 million S.F. Bay–Highway 101 project that created a newmarsh floodplain within a widened creek channel and new highway bridge to protect thousands of properties from recurrent flooding as well as sea level rise 10 feet above today's high tide, making it the largest completed SLR project in California. The SFCJPA is now designing two adjoining major capital projects with similar objectives along miles of Bay shoreline and creek.

During Len's tenure, the SFCJPA received a Technology Innovation award for its state-of-the-art flood early warning system, and it has been highlighted as a model of regional collaboration and effectiveness in two books, the Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, and most Bay Area media.

In recent years, Len has been a guest lecturer for graduate level classes at Stanford University, where he worked prior to joining the SFCJPA. Len also has served as a consultant to nonprofits, foundations, and the U.S. State Department; and as executive producer of a film on water that was broadcast nationally on PBS. During the Clinton Administration, he served as a full-time advisor to the Director of FEMA and as FEMA's representative on two White House Task Forces. Prior to his work in Washington, Len was the director of government affairs for UC Berkeley, where he received two Chancellor's Distinguished Service Awards. Len has degrees in political science and biological sciences from UC Davis.

Larry Patterson, Former City Manager, City of San Mateo

Mr. Patterson joined the City of San Mateo in June 2000. He was appointed Interim City Manager in October 2013 and became the City Manager in March 2014 and served in that capacity until he retired in December 2018. Prior to being appointed City Manager, Mr. Patterson was the Public Works Director and was responsible for engineering, maintenance, wastewater treatment and facilities management within the City. He is currently assisting the County of San Mateo and the City/County Association of Governments (C/CAG) with the formation of the Flood and Sea Level Rise Resiliency Agency.

Prior to joining the City of San Mateo, Mr. Patterson owned his own consulting engineering firm and provided traffic consulting services throughout northern California. He obtained his Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from the University of Texas at Arlington and his Masters of Science degree from the University of California, Berkeley Institute of Transportation Studies.

Erika Powell, Flood Resilience Program Manager, San Mateo County Department of Public Works

Erika Powell is a California registered civil engineer. As a native of New Orleans, she has a lifetime of experience with flooding and the consequences of extreme weather events. Erika has dedicated her professional career to the implementation of over $1B of multi-beneficial flood protection and restoration projects across California and Louisiana, and is now leading the development of similar investments for the County of San Mateo as the County's Flood Resilience Program Manager. Her passion for protecting the environment and mitigating the socio-economic impacts of major floods are backed by her numerical modeling skills and her leadership on numerous projects for the US Army Corps of Engineers, Los Angeles County, the Santa Clara County Valley Water District and the California Department of Water Resources. Her focus is on whole-watershed approaches with an emphasis on implementing multi-purpose projects that incorporate the needs of all stakeholders, especially in disadvantaged communities.

In her free time, Erika enjoys hiking in San Mateo County and Marin County's watersheds and traveling the world with her husband and their daughter.

MODERATOR

Dave Pine, District 1 Supervisor, County of San Mateo

Dave Pine was first elected to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to represent District 1 in a special election in May 2011. He is currently Board President and also served in that position in 2014.

As chair of the SF Bay Restoration Authority, chair of the San Mateo Countywide Water Coordination Committee, and a member of the SF Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the San Franciscquito Creek Joint Powers Authority, Pine works extensively on the intersecting issues of flood control, sea level rise and tidal land restoration. He played an instrumental role in the passage of Measure AA, the nine county Bay Area parcel tax to fund shoreline projects that will protect and restore the Bay.

Supervisor Pine also is the founding chair of the Peninsula Clean Energy Authority which provides San Mateo County residents and businesses with cleaner energy at competitive rates. In addition, he is active in transportation issues and serves on the Caltrain Joint Powers Board and the San Mateo County Transit District Board. Supervisor Pine previously was a school board member for the Burlingame School District from 2003 to 2007 and the San Mateo Union High School District from 2007 to 2011. He is also a past president of the San Mateo County School Boards Association.

Before focusing his career on public service, Pine worked as an attorney representing start-up and high-growth technology companies. After working in private practice with Fenwick & West, he served as Vice President and General Counsel for Radius, Excite@Home, and Handspring.

Originally from New Hampshire, Pine is a graduate of Dartmouth College, where he was awarded a Harry S. Truman scholarship, and the University of Michigan Law School. He resides in Burlingame with his wife Jane and their two sons.

Next-generation technology for the next generation.

Stanford Children's Health understands kids aren't just mini adults, and they need cutting-edge technology designed specifically with them in mind. Like the only neuro-hybrid suite in Northern California dedicated to pediatrics. And a PET/MRI scanner that reduces radiation exposure. All providing shorter, more efficient hospital visits so kids can spend less time under anesthesia and more time being kids. Access to Excellence.

Imagine a world without recycling

The world would be a dramatically different place, with more greenhouse gases, increased energy use, and dramatically faster depletion of our virgin natural resources.

As a metal recycler, Sims Metal Management transforms society's obsolete materials into useful raw materials. By purchasing products at the end of their life and processing them back into raw materials used in the manufacture of new products, scrap recycling reduces the need for virgin materials, such as iron ore, coal, and limestone. We have a strong commitment to the environment, sustainability and the health of the communities in which we do business.

We would love to show you what we do.

Fast is a Gig-speed network that gets business done.

Beyond Fast is technology that makes business boom.

Comcast built the nation's largest Gig-speed network to deliver unrelenting speeds to more businesses in more places. Now we're going beyond with Gig-speed enabled solutions that enhance your employee and customer experiences.

4G network backup offers complete reliability for your business, so you can keep going for up to 8 hours even if the power goes out or a connection is lost.

WiFi analytics generates insights about what your customers want—to keep them coming back.

Award-winning conference call features eliminate the need for dial-ins and PINs so you can join calls with a single tap.

Xfinity Stream for Business brings live TV content to customers and their employees on any device without the need or expense of additional equipment.

All of which improves the way you do business so you can go beyond.

Take your business beyond.
